3. Briefly describe what this case is about:

Plaintiff Allegations:

John Speer was a control person, officer, director, and sole shareholder of the general partner of Royce Homes. He was CEO and president of Royce Homes. Speer used his control over Royce Homes to enrich himself and to pay his personal obligations to Amegy, Manners, Donnie Lou Speer, and Kopecky. Amegy, Manners, Donnie Lou Speer, and Kopecky knew or participated with Speer in the scheme so they could receive millions of dollars from Royce Homes. The self-dealing transactions and payments began in September 2006. The improper transactions and payments continued though to the time Royce Homes ceased operations in August of 2008 and up until a Chapter 7 involuntary bankruptcy petition was filed against Royce Homes on April 7, 2009. These self dealing transactions resulted in approximately $35 million in cash and assets being stripped from Royce Homes leaving approximately $40 million in claims filed in this Bankruptcy Estate.

The Trustee's claims against the Defendants include breach of the partnership agreement, breach of fiduciary duty, civil theft, money had and received, fraudulent transfers, unjust enrichment, equitable subordination, constructive trust and equitable lien. In addition, the Trustee asserts aiding and abetting, conspiracy, and acting in concert claims against the Defendants. Further, the Trustee seeks declaratory judgment actions against Manners and Donnie Lou Speer relating to their receipt of Royce Homes's funds and a declaratory judgment action against Speer and Amegy relating to Speer's contractual agency with Amegy. The Trustee is seeking over $40 million in damages, exemplary damages, interest, attorney fees, and equitable relief of equitable subordination, constructive trust and equitable liens. The Trustee asserts the Defendants have individual liability as well as joint and several liability.

Defendants Contentions:

Defendants deny all claims of Trustee. Defendants have asserted a number of defenses, denials, and avoidances in various answers. Such answers are incorporated herein by reference. The Defendants intend to seek discovery on all matters set forth in Plaintiff's operative complaint. The Defendants believe discovery can be completed by July 1, 2013 as set forth in paragraph f below. The Defendants do not believe it is necessary to limit discovery or conduct it in phases.

- d. Any issues about disclosure or discovery of electronically stored information, including the form or forms in which it should be produced.

The parties are not aware of any issues regarding electronically stored information at this time. Counsel for all parties conferred. It is Defendant's position that Plaintiff should agree to turn over a copy of the electronic information of Royce Homes in native format, including meta-data. Plaintiff agrees to turn over a copy of the electronic information of Royce Homes in the possession of Plaintiff. If the electronic information in Plaintiff possession includes "native format, including meta-data" it will be made available to Defendants.

- e. What changes should be made in the limitations on discovery imposed under these rules or by local rule, and what other limitations should be imposed; and Plaintiff and Defendants do not agree.

Plaintiff's Position:

In accordance with Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(B) the Plaintiff intends to, without awaiting a discovery request, provide to the other parties a copy of all documents, electronically stored information, and tangible things that Plaintiff has in its possession, custody, or control and may use to support its claims or defenses, unless the use would be solely for impeachment. Some of the documents that will be produced were provided by certain of the Defendants pursuant to court orders. These Orders prescribed the use of the produced documents by Plaintiff. The production of these documents to the Defendants will be done in compliance with the:

- a) Order Regarding Amegy Bank's Motion for Protective Order and Compelling Production Adv Doc. #276 dated August 24, 2010. This order has not been appealed.

After a multiday evidentiary hearing on the Amegy's Motion Protective Order and the Trustee's Motion to Compel the Court entered an order with the following relevant language related to the documents the Trustee will produce in this litigation:

To the extent any communication is claimed by Amegy to be privileged, Amegy shall produce a privilege log.

With regard to the attachments to any e-mail:

d. To the extent Amegy Bank asserts a privilege to any designated attachment, it shall redact the privileged portion and send the redacted attachment to the Trustee along with a privilege log describing the basis of the redaction.

The Trustee and his counsel shall disclose the information from the Amegy Bank file as it relates to the private information of John Speer's $20 million loan file only for the purposes of his investigation and prosecution of claims. The Trustee may disseminate this information only in furtherance of his investigation or prosecution of claims of the estate. The Trustee may also use these documents as an exhibit in any pleading, deposition, discovery, hearing, settlement communication, or trial and may produce these documents in response to a subpoena or request for production.

The Trustee and his counsel shall disclose proprietary information of Amegy Bank, including but not limited to information contained in credit authorizations, problem loan reports, loan committee meetings and internal communications regarding the rating and status of loans, only for the purposes of his investigation and prosecution of claims. The Trustee may disseminate this information only in furtherance of his investigation or prosecution of claims of the estate. The Trustee may also use these documents as an exhibit in any pleading, deposition, discovery, hearing, settlement communication, or trial and may produce these documents in response to a subpoena or request for production.

The Trustee will comply with the Court Order and produce all document not designated by Amegy on its privilege log.

- b) Stipulation and Agreed Protective Order Regarding Subpoena Duces Tecum Served on Michael Manners Adv. Doc # 287 dated November 12, 2010. This order has not been appealed.

Counsel for Michael Manners and Trustee entered into a stipulation and agreed order which contained the following relevant language related to the documents the Trustee will produce in this litigation:

To the extent that any of the documents responsive to the Subpoena are alleged to be privileged, Manners shall produce a privilege log.

Manners and Trustee agree that with regard to attachments of any e-mail produced in response to the Subpoena:

(d)To the extent that Manners asserts a privilege to any designated attachment, he shall redact the privileged portion and send the redacted attachment to the Trustee along with a privilege log describing the basis of the redaction.

The Trustee and his counsel shall disclose the Private Information of Manners only for the purpose of his investigation and prosecution of claims. The Trustee may disseminate this information only in furtherance of his investigation or prosecution of claims of the estate. The Trustee may also use these documents as an exhibit in any pleading, deposition, discovery, hearing, settlement communication, or trial and may produce these documents in response to a subpoena or request for production. Should the Trustee receive a subpoena which would require the production of Manners' tax returns or financial statements, he will notify counsel for Manners in writing so that Manners may seek any relief he deems appropriate.

The Trustee will comply with the Court Order and produce all documents which were not designated by Manners on a privilege log at the time of production. The Trustee does not plan to produce Manners's tax returns and financial statements turned over in his production until a subpoena is issued by a party to the litigation and Manners has the opportunity to seek the relief he deems appropriate.

- c) Order Granting Chapter 7 Trustee's Motion to Compel Production of Documents Claimed as Privileged by John Speer Adv. Doc # 370 dated March 11, 2011 and Memorandum Opinion Regarding Trustee's Motion to Compel Production of Documents Claimed as Privileged by John Speer. Adv. Document #368 March 11, 2011. This order has been appealed by Speer. Speer sought a stay pending appeal however no stay was issued.

After a multiday hearing on the Motion to Compel Production of Documents Claimed as Privileged by John Speer the Court entered an order with the following relevant language related to the documents the Trustee will produce in this litigation:

The Court further finds that none of the documents that the Trustee has subpoenaed are protected by the attorney client privilege which John Speer has invoked. It is therefore:

ORDERED that the Motion to Compel Production of Documents Claimed as Privileged by John Speer is granted in its entirety; and it is further

ORDERED that John Speer shall produce to the Trustee all of the documents requested in the subpoena duces tecum that the Trustee served on John Speer; and it is further ORDERED that the Trustee may use these documents in any way consistent with his duties as a Chapter 7 Trustee.

The Trustee will comply with the Court Order and produce all documents in this case.

Defendants' position:

In the main bankruptcy case, Trustee served a number of Rule 2004 subpoenas and certain parties turned over documents pursuant to limiting conditions or as ordered by the Court. Defendants have been informed that Trustee intends to produce all documents in his possession or obtained by subpoena in the main bankruptcy case to all parties in this case. Defendants' position is that the parties should negotiate and execute a confidentiality agreement, which should be executed before production of any documents. Defendants also state that "dumping" all documents in his possession does not relieve Trustee from any other discovery obligations he may have under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, or pursuant to subsequent orders of this Court. Speer and Vestalia intend to move for protection to prevent Plaintiff from disclosing the documents which they contend are privileged and which are subject of the appeal presently pending in this court.

The Manners parties believe the protective order provides the requirements for disclosure of documents produced by Manners.

Due to the complexity of this case and number of parties involved, the parties believe it may be necessary to expand the standard number of interrogatories (25) and depositions (10) allowed under the rules. The parties may seek leave to serve additional interrogatories under Fed. R. Civ. P. 26 and 33. The parties acknowledge that it will be necessary to conduct more than 10 depositions in this case. The parties stipulate and agree that the 10-deposition limit does not apply in this case.

f. Proposed Scheduling and Docket Control Order.
